ABOUT 1ST GEOTECH ASIA 2025 & ASIAN REGIONAL CONFERENCES

The Asian Regional Conferences (ARCs), occurring every four years, gather member nations through a competitive bidding process. The recent 17th Asian Regional Conference, hosted by the Kazakhstan Geotechnical Society in Astana, Kazakhstan, focused on 'Smart Geotechnics for Smart Societies,' drawing over 600 attendees from 90 countries, notably from leading construction hubs in Asia. Given the limited frequency of the Asian Regional Conferences and the participation of 26 countries, many nations miss the opportunity to host. To bridge this gap, Geotech Asia was proposed during the 17th ARC, with India selected to host the inaugural event in 2025. Scheduled for October 7th to 10th, 2025, in Goa, the conference's organizing committee is inviting researchers, academics, and practicing engineers to submit papers for presentation. As the first event in the series, India anticipates a significant turnout from member nations and their representatives.

ABOUT THE ORGANIZING COMMITTEE

The 1st Geotech Asia 2025 conference is organized by the Indian Geotechnical Society (IGS), with the esteemed support of the International Society of Soil Mechanics and Foundation Engineering (ISSMGE). ISSMGE, a pre-eminent professional body established in 1936, represents the interests and activities of engineers, academics, and contractors worldwide who actively engage in geotechnical engineering. As a truly global organization, ISSMGE provides professional leadership to approximately 90 Member Societies and around 20,000 individual members. IGS has been affiliated with ISSMGE since 1948. Collaboration extends to ISSMGE Asian Regional Technical Committees, which are specialized groups focused on advancing soil mechanics and geotechnical engineering within the Asian region. Additionally, the renowned Indian Institute of Technology Bombay (IIT Bombay) contributes expertise, enriching this prestigious gathering. You are cordially invited to participate in the conference and contribute papers.

VENUE

The conference will be held at Taj Cidade de Goa Horizon during 7th – 10th October 2025.
